

Dear Premium Customers,

The rapid spread of the Covid-19 virus worldwide has created a serious situation. The World Health Organization (WHO) will officially declare it a pandemic within the next few days – it is only a matter of politics as to when that decision will come.

The extremely rapid spread and the high rate of severe disease progression, as well as the significantly higher incidence of mortality compared to influenza, are especially alarming. Our current best hope for a vaccine has been given the name “mRNA-1273”. It involves vaccination with genetic material and would constitute a revolution in the history of vaccines. However, we cannot expect it to become generally available in the immediate future.

In the meantime, please note the following:

1.) Vitamin supply

We now anticipate a significantly longer processing time by the American authorities, as well as a strong increase in demand for our personalized supplements triggered by the spread of coronavirus. You should therefore expect a significantly longer delivery time for our vitamin supplements over the next few weeks.

Because vitamin supplements can also be decisive for the effective response of the immune system to the coronavirus, we recommend that you order your supplements early.

2.) Precautions against infection

At present, it is not clear whether genetic predisposition increases the likelihood of infection. Research in this area is currently taking place at the Robert Koch Institute.

You should avoid close contact with other people.

Wash your hands at least once an hour, ideally with a disinfectant containing alcohol.

Masks provide limited protection, as breath and associated humidity reduce the effectiveness of the filter function to zero after 20 minutes.

Avoid touching your face with your hands.

Use public toilets only if absolutely necessary.

Disinfect frequently touched surfaces at home (e.g. door handles) once a day. Coronaviruses remain active in situ for up to 9 days.

According to the latest tests, the most effective disinfectants against Corona virus are ethanol-based. The product should be labeled as "viricidal".

If possible, do not plan any trips – especially not to countries with poor health care systems.

3.) Boosting your immune system

It is vital to keep your immune system strong. Most of the fatalities are among the elderly and sick. However, there have also been cases of otherwise healthy 40-year-olds who died within days of contracting the virus.

The best way of boosting the immune system is to take 2 Vital sachets and 2 Telomer sachets per day. These contain the strongest anti-inflammatory agent that we identify from the TNF alpha simulation test that forms part of every blood test. Taking your individual supplement is by far the most important thing for you to do.

Should symptoms nonetheless manifest themselves, please take zinc lozenges (absorption via the mucous membranes is more efficient by a factor of 8). The dosage should be approximately 5 mg zinc and 250 mg vitamin C per lozenge. Suck one every 2 hours.

It is also important to reinforce the defensive reaction of the intestine which is one of the key safeguards against the virus. Take the granules for this purpose. There are also special probiotics and prebiotics that are customized on the basis of your most recent blood tests. These are available for immediate order to Premium customers.

Fill up your medicine cabinet.

Keep the most important categories of antibiotics in reserve at home. Also Ibuprofen 200, NAC600 and, if possible, Tamiflu. These items are mainly produced in China, so it is only a matter of time before stocks are totally depleted.

Possible secondary infection:

Research at the Medical School of Mount Sinai Hospital in New York and the Paul Ehrlicher Institute in Germany has revealed that the initial infection causes an abnormal mechanism that forms an infection-amplified antibody similar to dengue fever with the consequence that the secondary infection leads to higher complications and also higher mortality. One such case has now been observed in Japan, indicating a significantly longer infection period and also greater difficulty in developing a vaccine.

In the meantime, Salvagene audits will be partly carried out by video telephony:

We consider any activity involving travel as well as gatherings of large groups of people to present an additional risk of infection.

The following audits in March and April will therefore be conducted as video conferences:

- London 18/03/20 - 25/03/20
- New York City 07/03/20 - 14/03/20
- Paris 01/04/20 - 04/04/20
- Beijing – canceled
- Dubai – canceled

Please contact your customer advisor directly in case of difficulties with dates.
